

LIVESTOCK AUCTION MARKETS SUPPORT

COMMUNITY VITALITY

Livestock auction markets are the life blood of many small towns across America. They provide jobs and generate trade for area merchants, in turn creating a healthy business environment. They are home-grown enterprises that support and invest in area activities.

When you patronize your livestock auction market, you support your local economy.

On behalf of the more than 800 livestock auction markets across the country, we say thank you. We appreciate your business.
